PIERCE FAMILY

Pierce or Peirce is undoubtedly derived from the French name Pierre or Piers. It is a name of considerable antiquity. In the early part of the 14th century we find Peirs de Gaveston had the power to ingratiate himself into the love and esteem of King Edward II. The envy of the nables was aroused and he was beheaded in 1313 though never deserted by the king. Peter Piers lived in the reigns of Edward IV and Richard III, and as Standard Bearer to Richard fought at Bosworth Field in 1485.

I. John Pers of Norwich, Norfolk Co., England, weaver, emigrated to this country 1637, bringing his wife and four children. They came in either the "John and Dorothy" of Norwich, or the "Rose" of Yarmouth. John Pers was the grantee of one lot in Watertown and purchaser of three lots before 1644. Was admitted freeman 1638/9. He was of Watertown, a man of good estate. He projected a settlement at Sudbury and Lancaster--probably never resided at Lancaster. John Pers m. Elizabeth --------. VII Kenelm b. 4-29-1599. d. Salem, Mass. (when there on visit) 9-13-1672. m. 6- -1634, Eleanor Newton Adams, widow of John Adams. (E. b. 1598, bur. 12-5-1681) E. was of Marshfield. Kenelm was the immediate ancestor of the Winslows of this country. He was at Plymouth before 1633. Came probably in 1629 with his brother Josiah. He was admitted freeman Jan. 1632/3. In 1640 was chosen surveyor for Town of Plymouth - was fined 10 shillings for neglecting the highways. Removed to Marshfield in 1641. Was one of the 26 original proprietors of Freetown, Mass., bought of Indians in 1659, and received the 24th lot, part of which was lately owned by a lineal descendant. He was styled "joiner" in 1633.4, but elsewhere is called "planter". Like his brother, Governor Edward, he was distinguished for his sagacity and good sense, and had good executive and business qualities. He was a considerable owner of lands in Yarmouth in 1640. He was drawn to Plymouth by the bonds of sympathy which held him to his brothers, Edward and John, and to the Pilgrims as representing a good cause.

"Kenelm and Josiah arrived at Plymouth before 1632 and both settled at Marshfield. He was from first to last one of the Pilgrims within the limits of the Old Colony. The exact date of his arrival from Eng. is not known. If he came in 1629 in Puritan company and perhaps made some stay at Salem before proceeding to Plymouth it would still be consistent with his being an original Pilgrim with the Mayflower people and their delayed companions. Only about one third of the Pilgrim church at Leyden came over at first, and in 1629 a long hindered portion of the original number came by way of Salem in Puritan company and proceeded thence to Plymouth. The Puritan ships, "Talbot", "George", and "Lion", were directly followed by three more, "Pilgrim", "Four Sisters", and "Mayflower" (the same Mayflower that in 1620 came to Plymouth). Possibly Kenelm came in the Mayflower, itself in 1629 when it formed part of the Puritan expedition. However he came, it was as a Pilgrim to join the Old Colony. Either he or his son Kenelm got a tract of land in R. I. Of the two ships in 1629 which brought Pilgrims it must have been the Mayflower or the Talbot on which Kenelm came for the original "record states" some servants of the Pilgrim company were sent in the Talbot" but these (the Pilgrims) came in the Mayflower. It is not likely that anything can be added to the probable conclusion that your ancestor, though not at first, yet came in the Mayflower".

Coat of Arms of Winslow Family. Worcestershire, England; Plymouth, Mass. : Argent, on a bend gules, eight lozengues conjoined or. Crest- Trunk of a tree with brances ppr. enclrcled with a strap and buckle. Motto- Decoptus floreo.

I have recently learned that Kenelm Winslow and his wife Damaris were living in Petersham, Mass., in 1790, but were residents of Halifax, Vermont, in 1794, and do not appear to have returned to Petersham again to live. There were Pierces in Halifax

"Kenelm (XI b. 1746) received a good farm from his father, married, and removed to Cortland County, N. Y. - had a son." (Winslow Memorial)

Kenelm Winslow (b. 1712/13) who kept the Winslow House in Petersham owned 2 or 3 slaves. One of them - Tack by name - appears to have been quite a public character -

So many Petersham men volunteered for service in Rev. Army that the town is sometimes called Volunteer town. (From Worcester County, Mass., History)

Marriage Int. of Kenelm Winslow and Damaris Wilder is recorded in Petersham, Mass., Vital Rec. to 1850, p. 163.

Their children's births are recorded in Petersham V. Rec. to 1850, pp. 58 and 59.

Their birth dates and marriages were also recorded in Family Bible of Patty Maria Pierce (dau. John Pierce and Patty Winslow)

At a Convention of Committees of Safety, etc., of Towns of Hutchinson, Templeton, Athol, and Petersham at the house of Kenelm Winslow in Petersham 12th day of July, 1776, the following Votes and Resolves were passed. (p. 1286 - American Archives - Proceedings of December, 1776)

From History of Hardwick p. 13

The names of all K. Winslow's (b. 1712/13) Children exc. the first ch., are all entered in Hardwick records but most of them were orib, b, Rochester, Mass., from which place Kenelm the father removed to Hardwick about 1749. About 1758 he removed to Petersham and was innkeeper many year. His will dated April 5, 1775 - Probated 5-5-1775. K. d. Petersham.

It was in the "Talbot" and the "Mayflower" that 35 of the Leyden people smuggled themselves over.

FROM "MEMORIALS OF MARSHFIELD"
(Marcia A. Thomas)

"The most distinguised of these settles, as is well known, were the Winslow - Edward, John, Josiah and Kenelm. Of the Winslows, Edward came in the Mayflower 1620. John in the Fortune 1621; Kenelm came 1629; Josiah in "White Angel" to Saco 1631 and after a short residence in Scituate removed to Marshfield. Gilbert came also in Mayflower but returned to England after 1624 where he died 1650. They were brothers and their father, Edward Winslow, lived in Droitwich, England, who was son of Kenelm of Kempsey and afterward of Worcester, England, where he died 1607."

Kenelm Winslow was enrolled freeman, Marshfield, 1670.

Will of Kenelm Winslow of Petersham, Mass.

"I, Kenelm Winslow of Petersham, Worcester Co., Mass., give to Elizabeth, my dearly beloved wife, while she remains my widow, 1/3 of my homestead consisting of land and buildings, and during her widowhood my three negroes Sarah, Rose, & Phyllis; a horse to ride on; 2 cows, 10 sheep and a third of allmy movables of every nature which I give in thankful remembrance of her kindness. To my eldest son Kenelm Winslow my homestead with the reservation aforesaid to my widow during her widowhood - also the undivided right to lands in said Petersham the houselot of which was No. 13 - also all my right to any land in the town of Greenwich, Co. of Hampshire - also my pew in the mt. house in Petersham and all my stock except what was disposed of to my wife."

Appointed his son Kenelm sole Executor.

KENNEY FAMILY

"The ancient family of Kenney was transplanted into Ireland by Nicholas Kenne, Esq. (1472) of the family of Kenne Court, Somerset Co., Eng., and established in the Manor of Eermine, County Wexford, by his great grandson, Nicholas Kenney, Esq., Escheator and Feodary General of all Ireland to Queen Elizabeth and King James I by patent dated Feb. 18, 1610; he bears by right of descent a shield of seven quarterings.

The family of Kenney or Kenny descends in sixteen different ways from the royal house of Plastaganet. (See "Burke's Peerage")

Kenny and Kenney Armorial Bearings are enrolled in Ulster's Office.

Kenney Arms

Arms: Per pale or and az., a fleur-de-lis between three crescents, all counter-changed.
Crest: Out of an earl's coronet a cubit arm erect, vested gules, cuffed argent, the hand ppr. grasping a roll of parchment, ppr.
Motto: "Teneat, luceat, floreat" (let it hold, shine, and flourish)"

"Your old Coat of Arms of Kenney has continued in use and honor to this day. A halo of romance surrounds its historic shield of "crescents three and fleur-de-lis", likewise its roll-grasping hand. arm, and coronet crest figure."

From Jerome A. Ringrose's letter to Everett D. Kenney of Utica, New York.

"Kenny originally came from Somersetshire, England, where they were designated "Kenne" and subsequently when all surnames took a modern form, we find them settled in Ireland, being there designated "Kenney". The etymology of your name is therefore derived from two sources, namely, from "Kenne" of the twon of Kenne in Somersetshire, and from the old Gaelic "Keanna", which signifies "head of the house."

This is not an Irish or Scotch family originally. They rose into prominence and origin in Somerset County, Eng. They bear the same arms in all three parts of these Islands.

Kenney have been particularly fortunate in enjoying the personal friendship of Britain's greatest heraldic and genealogical authority (Sir Bernard Burke). Burke found the facts, and the history of the house is very good and very ancient and also readily proved by divers documents and lands which Kenny, Kenne, etc., have successively held for generations."

Above from letters of Jerome A. Ringrose, Heraldist and Genealogist 14 Harrington Square, London, N. W.) to my Kenney cousins of Utica, New York.

The Kenney family of Cortland County, N. Y. trace their ancestry in unbroken male line to the emigrant who landed in New Eng. more than 2½ centuries alo (1651 or 1653). He was of English birth, son of a titled Englishman and was doubtless reared in affluence. Like many of his day, he demanded for himself entire freedom in matters of religion, and being denied in his native land he joined the tide of emigration flowing to Holland, the one bright spot in Europe.

I. Sir Thomas Kinne of Norfolk, Eng., was knighted in 1618 for a valuable service rendered to his king.

II. Henry b. Eng. 1624 (perhaps in Holland) was s. of Sir Thomas Kenney of Norfolk, Eng. came to America from Holland in 1653. Settled on a farm at Salem where he died 1712. He served in King Philip's Was. He was a prosperous farmer; and a most religious man, often officiating at public service, endeavoring by precept and example to advance the cause of his Master. He held public offices in Salem where his name is found as Keyney, Kenney, Kenny, Kinney, Kinne. He m. Anna Howard.

The Lambs settled in Salem, Mass., about 1637. Later went to Conn.

Revolutionary Army Services of Asa Lamb

In 1883 Asa Lamb, then of Brookfield, Madison Co., New York, applied for a pension which was granted on account of the following services.

Enlisted March 1776 (born July 12, 1761) as a substitute for Silas Lamb (his father) who had enlisted for one year under Capt. Isaac Gallup, Col. Parsons' Reg. and joined the army at Roxbury, Mass. After the evacuation of Boston marched to New London, Conn., and west by water to New York in August. Crossed to Long Island and had an engagement with the enemy, being compelled to retreat to New York. In Sept. 1776 had an engagement with the enemy and were compelled to evacuate the city, and retreat up the North River. A stand was made at Rome, N. J. On Dec. 9, 1776 enlisted in the army of the U. S. at Romefau (perhaps Ramapo) N. J. with Capt. John McGregor, Col. John Durkee's Reg. Continental line for 3 yrs. and served until Dec. 9, 1779. Served under Gen. Parsons, Col. Durkee, Lieut. Col. Russell, Capt. John McGregor, Lieut. Lemuel Cliff. Was in engagements at Jamestown and Monmouth. Gen. Lee was first in command and was followed by Gen. Washington when a general engagement commenced and the British were compelled to retreat. Went into winter quarters at Pompton, N. J. Enlisted June 1, 1781, with Capt. Lemuel Cliff at Groton, Conn., for 3 yrs., but 2 or 3 weeks later was detached and placed with dragoons under Gen. LaFayette. Continued near Yorktown until winter quarters were established about 100 mi. distant. Marched to Winchester, Va., in spring of 1782. To Little York, Pa., 1783, where he was discharged Dec. 9, 1783. He received a written discharge from La Fayette but lost it (this statement is from U. S. Pension Office)

Asa Lamb swore he received written discharge from La Fayette - lost more than 40 yr. past.

Dated June 4, 1833

In an affidavit filed with his pension application I copied this, "He is universally respected as a man of truth and veracity, and as a hero of the Revolution."

I Nicholas Wilder was a military chieftain in the army of the Earl of Richmond at the Battle of Bosworth 1485. On April fifteenth, 1497, being the twelfth year of the reign of Henry VII, he gave to his friend, Nicholas Wilder, a token of his favor, a landed estate with a coat of arms. That estate is still held by his heirs. There is no date of the birth or death of Nicholas Wilder of Nunhide but the estate has remained in the family many years and the arms given with it was furnished us by the Heraldic Office of London, Eng.
